Internship Policy
Indian Institute of Information Technology Guwahati

1. Introduction

At the Indian Institute of Information Technology Guwahati (IIITG), securing internships is essential for practical industry exposure and career enhancement. Students can either find internships independently or utilize the resources and support from the institute's Placement Working Committee (PWC).

The Placement Working Committee, in collaboration with the placement incharge and faculty coordinators, plays a crucial role in facilitating internship opportunities for students. This comprehensive guide outlines the structured process for registering and securing internships through IIITG, ensuring that students are well-prepared and informed throughout their journey.

The following sections detail the step-by-step procedures, responsibilities, and expectations for students, companies, and the institute, aiming to streamline the internship acquisition process and maintain a high standard of professionalism.

2. Types of Internships:

There are two types of internship, depending on the timeline, which are provided by Placement Cell:

a) Summer internship (During May - July, after completion of pre-final year)
b) Final semester Internship (During final semester of UG/PG curriculum).

Internships secured through off-campus processes (which are not organized by the placement cell) are also governed by this internship policy and it is mandatory for the students to declare the off-campus internships to the placement cell.

3. General Rules

3.1. Eligibility

1. IIITG has a 'One Student One Internship' offer policy.
2. The student must be a registered student with the Placement Cell for Internships availed through our institute.
3. Eligibility criteria for placements are prescribed by the company visiting for placements. The Institute or the Placement Cell has no role in this regard. Eligibility criteria will be communicated in advance to the students. Students shall check their eligibility before applying for placement. Placement Cell has full rights to withdraw the names of the non-eligible candidates.

4. Once the student accepts the internship offer, he/she is not eligible for another company giving a higher stipend/PPO offer or any such benefits.
5. Students can pursue their academic research internship in Institutions of National Importance like NIT and IIT or IISER, IISC Bangalore, or with reputed universities abroad.
6. Students with more than two backlogs will not be allowed to participate in internship activities organized by the Placement Cell.
7. Students from all branches are allowed to register for internships unless the company imposes branch restrictions.

3.2. Acceptance of Offers

1. Students are required to accept the offers within the period stipulated by the respective company. Whether the student accepts or not, he/she will not be allowed to participate in any further processes. It is advised that the students accept the offer immediately.
2. Any cases of unsolicited persuasion by the companies should be reported to the Placement Cell.

4. Internship Policies

1. Registration: All 3rd-year B. Tech students and 1st-year M. Tech students interested in securing an internship through the institute are required to register with the Placement Cell. Only registered students can participate in further processes to get an internship through the institute. Unregistered students will be considered as Not Interested/Off-Campus/Non-PWC track. Such students are encouraged to inform their internship status to the PWC for records.
2. Company Registration: Companies will fill out the Internship Notification Form (INF), which serves as an introduction to the internship profile for the benefit of the candidates and informs them of the company's requirements.
3. Profile Availability: After a company registers with IIITG and is approved by the PWC, company profiles will be made available to students via email. Students must regularly check their email for eligible company profiles and upload their format-specified resumes.
4. Scheduling: The Company will be allotted dates for conducting Pre-Placement Talks (PPT), Written Tests, or Online Tests, with a request to confirm by a specified date. The company will visit the campus on scheduled dates to conduct the selection process, including tests, group discussions, and interviews.
5. Participation Continuation: Students who have not received any offers may continue participating in the internship process.
6. Process Adherence: Students who upload their resumes for a company are required to go through all the subsequent steps for which they are eligible. Disengaging from the process without prior approval from the Placement In charge or Internship Advisor will result in disciplinary action after a hearing.
7. Deadlines: Students must follow all deadlines. No extension requests will be entertained, except for special cases brought to the notice of the Internship Cell for a final decision.

requests for date changes will be entertained. Students must frequently check their emails to stay informed.

9. Interview/GD Slots: Slots for interviews/group discussions will be decided by the Placement Cell. If a student needs a slot change for a valid reason, they should inform the concerned student coordinator and placement in charge as soon as possible.
